FOR OUR BROKER PARTNERS

What's in it for you?

Brokers are winning new business by making Utopia WellCare a standard part of doing business with them. When brokers list everything a client gets by working with them, Utopia WellCare on that list hits home with CEOs and HR leaders alike.

1 Build on your relationship.

Whether it's a brand new client or one you've worked with for years, there's always room to enrich the relationship. Utopia WellCare is a simple way to do it.

Manage cost and risk

A preventative benefit the plan already covers, aimed at the conditions that drive claims.

Deliver good news

A positive benefits message employees actually want to hear about.

Strengthen culture

One-on-one dietitian care that shows the company invests in its people.

> A very successful consultant told us he talks about 20 new and exciting things with his clients and never ends up implementing any of them.
> Why? Because most changes in healthcare are complex, disruptive, and add cost.

Utopia WellCare lets you have those strategic conversations with a super easy deliverable that connects the dots between strategy and action. And you get to take the credit.

2 Make it part of every pitch.

Many brokers now include a Utopia WellCare slide in every capabilities presentation they give, for new and current clients alike. Not some clients. Every client.

If you're not talking about Utopia WellCare, someone else eventually will. And they'll get the credit.
